SENTENCES PASSED ON MAGOFFIN MEN

SOME ESCAPED WITH FINES,
WHILE OTHERS RECEIVED PRISON SENTENCES.

The Ashland Independent of last Friday says: Yesterday in federal court the remainder of the Magoffin case was disposed of. The most of the day was taken up with the trial of Mabel Lee Montgomery, who was jointly indicted with her son, Walter E. Montgomery, charged with obtaining by the fraudulent use of the mails, a large amount of merchandise under the fictitious name of E. Montgomery & Son. Walter E. Montgomery entered a plea of guilty, but his father, M. F. Montgomery, claimed that his name was used by him without consent. It developed in the course of the trial that the handwriting of the father and son was almost identical.

The government was represented by U. S. Attorney Thos. D. Slattery and assistants, Charles Fennell and Edward M. Galliffe, ex-U. S. Attorney Edwin P. Morrow, Congressman Jno. W. Langley, Commonwealth Attorney Floyd Arnett, of Magoffin-co., defended the prisoners. The jury promptly returned a verdict of guilty. Thereupon all the other defendants from Magoffin-co., charged with various offenses, who had not previously been convicted or entered pleas of guilty, asked permission of the court to change their pleas from "not guilty" to "guilty." The court then passed the judgments upon the following:

Henry K. Stone, three years in Atlanta penitentiary.

Walter Montgomery, three years in Atlanta penitentiary.

Bruce Tackett, one year and one day in Atlanta penitentiary.

Dennis S. Smith, two years in Atlanta penitentiary.

Kendall Montgomery, three months in jail.

Ollie Blanton, one year and one day in Atlanta penitentiary.

Bradley W. O. Lemaster, one year and one day in Atlanta penitentiary.

Warren Blum, two years in Atlanta penitentiary.

Manice F. Montgomery, three months in jail.

D. Glenn Sublett, fine $5,000; $2,500 of which was paid in cash, balance repaid.

Wayne Cooper, $500 fine, repaid.

H. H. Ramey, $500 fine, paid.

J. F. Prater, $500 fine, paid.

R. C. Minix, $500 fine, paid.

F. C. Lacey, $500 fine, paid.

N. P. Howard, $500 fine, paid.

H. G. Arnett, $500 fine, paid.

A. H. Adams, $500 fine, paid.

J. T. Arnett, $500 fine, paid.

James H. Hall, $500 fine, paid.

Robt. L. Stone, $500 fine, paid.

Total amount, $11,190.00.

Judge Coleman, in passing sentence on this large number of prisoners, stated that never before since he had been on the bench had he been confronted with such a trying ordeal as that of passing sentence upon the men before him. His voice quivered and he was audibly affected by the solemnity of the duty imposed upon him. Several of the prisoners during the progress of the sentencing wept bitterly, and a large number of their wives, relations and children in the court house joined with them. It resembled in many respects a funeral. It is probable that never before in the history of the Kentucky judiciary were such pathetic scenes enacted as those attendant upon the sentencing of these prisoners. After they had received their sentences and were being taken from the court house to the jail, awaiting removal to the penitentiary, they were followed by a throng of women and children in a chorus of weeping and wailing. On yesterday 44 were sentenced, and the number sentenced today added makes a total of 63 persons in all from Magoffin-co., who were caught in the net spread by Postoffice Inspectors John I. Games and V. R. Beck.

For a number of years it has been known all over the country that Magoffin-co. contained a host of persons who were experts in devising schemes to defraud mail order houses and other persons and business concerns throughout the United States of valuable merchandise. Likewise that it contained a large number of persons who occupied high positions socially, politically and financially who had bartered and traded in spurious land titles. Conditions had reached the point in Magoffin-co. where it became next to impossible for the honest, respectable and upright citizens of that county to obtain credit outside of the county. The condition became so intolerable that the good people of the county tendered to the United States their services in helping to rid the county of these fraudulent practices.

In October, 1915, Postoffice Inspectors Games and Beck began their investigations. The number of schemes to defraud which they uncovered were revelations, even to these veteran inspectors. At places like Brownlow, Wheelersburg, Putnam, Leitchburg, Tolly, Lacey, Oil Springs, Ophir, Silver Hill, Eudora, Orient, River, Win and others—some having a postoffice generally confined to a small dwelling house—there appeared stationery with letter heads, envelopes, charms purses and other advertisements indicating that the business being carried on in those communities rivaled the most renowned and best known commercial houses in the largest metropolitan cities.

The inspectors found upon investigation that the widely advertised firm of M. F. Montgomery & Son, Montgomery & Company, Montgomery & Blum, Walter Montgomery, Sr., Montgomery & Howard, C. & O. Montgomery, and several other firms were being operated in a ten by twelve foot smoke house which had been removed from its place in the rear of the residence of Walter Montgomery to a place by the roadside. More than 150 bogus firm names were used by the swindlers who succeeded in defrauding firms and individuals all over the United States of sums aggregating over $100,000.

In addition, these who were interested in forming the land swindlers had defrauded persons all the way from Yuma, Arizona, to Geneva, New York, in a sum aggregating close to $150,000.

In these land swindlers they had used the Ford & Duvall Patent, the Lewis Back Patent, and the Walcott Patent. The territory covered by these three patents had for probably a half century been occupied by big holders who had a good title to these operating.

When prospective purchasers would come to Salyersville to view the lands offered for sale, they would take them over into the county of Itawamba and point to thousands of acres of virgin forests which they claimed were the lands covered by their patent.

The men connected with this land swindle consisted almost entirely of office holders of Magoffin-co., and ex-office holders, to-wit:

A. H. Adams, ex-circuit court clerk.

H. G. Arnett, ex-superintendent of schools and at present postmaster at Hendricks, Ky.

N. P. Howard, ex-deputy sheriff.

F. C. Lacey, ex-county court clerk.

R. C. Minix, ex-county court clerk.

S. H. Ramey, ex-county attorney.

D. Glenn Sublett, ex-judge of Salyersville, Ky.

Jack Arnett, former member of the Kentucky legislature.

J. F. Prater, who was until recently first lieutenant in the Kentucky guards.

W. W. Cooper is a nephew of former Circuit Judge Cooper, of that district, and is an attorney at law.

One of those who was indicted, to-wit: J. H. Sublett, who was ex-master commissioner of Magoffin-co., died before the trial began.

The following persons appeared and represented the defendants: Ex-Attorney of State Attorney Edwin P. Morrow; Judge W. A. Young, Morehead, Ky.; Congressman John W. Langley; Commonwealth Attorney Floyd Arnett, of Morgan-; Judge Bailey, Paintsville, Circuit Judge D. W. Gardner, Salyersville, and John Howard, of Salyersville.

The government had present hundreds of witnesses who had come to Catlettsburg from practically every state in the union. It was thought by all parties concerned that the trial of these cases would consume the months of July and August, and it was a matter of great surprise and satisfaction that after the trial and conviction of a couple of the leaders that the others threw themselves on the mercy of the court. The only persons who were indicted and who escaped were eight women, who, upon the motion of the United States attorney, were dismissed.

All of the others received sentences running all the way from one day, given to Admiral Dewey Stone, to three years and a day in the Atlanta penitentiary, the sentence being imposed upon young Stone's father, H. K. Stone.

These cases from Magoffin-co. are considered the most remarkable in the history of the courts of Kentucky. Within the area of five miles inhabited by four hundred people, mountaineer conspirators defrauded large wholesale houses and jobbers located all over the United States of something like $80,000 worth of goods. Expert credit men drawing handsome salaries as well as brilliant lawyers and real estate sharks went down in defeat before the wiles of the Magoffin-co. mountaineers.

Their method was simple. They organized a fictitious bank and printed the stationery of this bank. Then they organized fictitious firms. The firms ordered goods from the jobbers, and furnished as reference this bank, known as the state bank of Brownlow. When the credit men would write to the bank of Brownlow concerning the finances of their prospective customers the bank would highly recommend them.

Not only did they defraud wholesale houses, but they sold thousands of acres of certain land to which they had no real title to residents of California, Arizona and other states of the union—one New York lawyer failing a victim before these mountaineer real estate dealers. The deeds which passed in such transactions referred back to land grants, which were declared outlawed, inasmuch as settlers have claimed this land for several generations back.

H. K. Stone, who was on trial Wednesday was overwhelmed by a mass of evidence which the attorneys could not offset, and he finally on the witness stand admitted his guilt. The jury was out five minutes and returned with a verdict of guilty.

Stone was charged with using the mails to defraud, and (1) Indian Medicine company, of Toledo, he being employed as their agent in Magoffin-co. He sold several hundred bottles of "Whoo Bitters," a blood remedy, being made from the bark of a tree known as the Whoo tree combined with alcohol, the proportion of the latter liquid being about forty per cent of the entire mixture.

"Whoo Bitters" was used as a sort of tonic as well as stimulant down in Magoffin-co., and was consumed in large quantities—even the children developed a fondness for it.

C. L. Williams, a representative of the Old Indian Medicine company, stated on the witness stand that he went into Magoffin-co. on an investigation following the failure of Stone to forward receipts for his many sales. Becoming acquainted with one of the natives, he made known his desire for some of the celebrated Kentucky moonshine whiskey. He gave his acquaintance the dollars and was told to wait a few minutes and the "mountain dew" would be forthcoming. The mountain dew disappeared and returned in a few minutes with two quart bottles wrapped up in paper. Returning to his hotel house, Mr. Williams investigated the package and found that it contained two bottles of his own famous "Whoo Bitters."

H. K. Stone numbered a piano among many articles which were ordered from out-of-the-state dealers.

Another one of his family, R. L. Stone, procured the agency in his district for the International Fruit company, of Baltimore, and made numerous sales of cider in his community for the Baltimore firm. When he sent for his commission, the company sent an order upon one of their agents' customers, N. L. Stone, also of Magoffin-co. It was not disclosed whether or not R. L. Stone ever collected his commission, since it was afterward found out that N. L. Stone was his wife.

All the defendants who were found guilty and who received penitentiary sentences were taken away this afternoon in charge of the United States Marshal and his assistants. Most of them will be confined in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.

The following women, who were indicted in connection with the cases, were discharged upon the motion of the district attorney: Ellen Smith, wife of Dennis Smith; Nora L. Stone, wife of R. L. Stone; C. V. Cantrill, Lizzie Hall Mrs. V. E. Hill, Lillie Lemaster, Susan Moxley.

SELECTIVE DRAFT LIST NUMBERS

Lawrence County Board Completes Work on The "Red Ink" Numbers.

W. D. O'Neal and G. R. Vinson, composing the Lawrence county board having finished the work of numbering all those registered in this county are publishing the complete alphabetical list herewith, giving the numbers which will decide the order in which they will go to the army. The drawing will take place in Washington and all men throughout the United States holding corresponding numbers will be ordered into service accordingly.

The local board has good reason to believe that a few of the registration cards were stolen and that the names do not appear on the list.

Those interested should retain this list and in a few days they will know by referring to it who is to go first.

What Each Registrant Must Do.

Washington, July 9.—America's men of draft age will be responsible for ascertaining whether or not they are drawn in the big human lottery. Hence the war department asked that in the next few days they be on the alert, follow the newspaper announcements of the draft requirements, and when in doubt ask their local exemption boards.

The provost marshal general has prepared a bolded-down announcement of draft requirements, so that there can be no mistaking the duty of the 9,500,000 registrants.

In brief this is what each registrant must do:

Find out what your red ink serial number is. Watch for the drawing in Washington. Then find out whether you are drawn and the order in which you must appear.

After that learn when you must appear for physical examination.

In case of doubt as to any point, ask your local board about it.

There will be other steps the registrant must watch, and as every man is taxed with the responsibility of knowing requirements, it behooves the youth of America to keep close tabs on newspapers from now on.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

FRIDAY.

Boris Bakhtoff, head of the Russian mission to the United States, was formally presented to President Wilson yesterday as the first Ambassador to this country under the new Russian Government. Secretary Lansing presented the Ambassador and formal greetings were exchanged. The ceremony took place in the blue room of the White House and the President was surrounded by his military and

The advance of the Northern and Southern Republican armies toward Pekin has begun, according to a dispatch received in London and the situation is considered grave. High officials have been executed. The anarchists and a compromise of the difficulties resulting from Gen. Chang Tsun's efforts to re-establish a Monarchy seems doubtful.

Under the leadership of the foremost statesman of the world, Woodrow Wilson, America has achieved a new and high place, not only in the eyes of friends and allies, but in the opinion of those enemy countries. To recognize the President's unprecedented statesmanship, Abram T. ... Ambassador to Turkey ... in New York.

Prominent Mexicans ... with the capital predict Mexico will declare war on Germany within thirty days, according to a dispatch from El Paso. According to these men all German money and bonds will be seized and all Germans will be either interned or deported.

Foreign agents are co-operating with the United States secret service in running down spies. Washington officials admit that since the entry of the United States into the war numerous plots and schemes have been uncovered and many remain to be solved.

In a statement issued yesterday Adj. Gen. McLean declared that "Intelligent and forceful" men are wanted for the second officers' training camp, even if they are under 32 years old and without military experience.

Three troops of cavalry and a machine gun company have been sent to Globe, Ariz., to handle the copper mine strike situation.

Moving of the Second Kentucky Regiment from Winchester to Camp Stanlev, near Lexington, has been postponed.

SATURDAY.

The battle in Eastern Galicia between the Teutonic forces and the Russians has developed afresh, and Berlin reports that massed assaults made by the Russians broke down with heavy losses to the attacking forces. After checking the latest offensive of the German Crown Prince in Champagne, the French took the offensive and straightened out their line in the region of Mont Ami and Mont Camille. Four counter attacks by the German were repulsed.

Denial by Samuel Gompers that trade unions had any share in the race riots at East St. Louis, which was met by a vigorous denunciation of the murder of helpless negroes by Col. Theodore Roosevelt brought a tumultuous demonstration at a mass meeting held in New York in honor of the Russian Mission. Col. Roosevelt brought his open hand down on Mr. Gompers' shoulder, and said that he would put down the laboring man when there was murder.

Unofficial reports say Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Imperial Chancellor, in his forthcoming speech before the Reichstag, will make such declarations as will serve as a basis for peace negotiations. The Chancellor's address was to have been delivered before the end of this week, and its temporary postponement may have been caused by the sudden and unexpected movement by the Russians in Eastern Galicia.

Selection day for the new national army is approaching rapidly, as the local exemption boards of the various States complete their organization. Indications are that the drawing will be held next week. Complications must arise in any method to be followed and President Wilson is giving his personal attention to the matter.

Declaring that visitors to the Louisville cantonment six months hence will be sleeping in garages and barns if the present slump in building activity continues, architects, contractors and building supplies men inaugurated a movement to "wake up" the city to the benefits of the camp and create a revival of house construction.

Eleven suffragists who took part in the demonstration in front of the White House on the fourth of July were given the alternative of paying a $25 fine or serving three days in jail when they were brought to trial at Washington. They chose to go to jail.

Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott and other military members of the United States Mission to Russia have arrived at Jassy, Roumania, and announced that everything will be done to supply the needs of the Hunan army.

The only change likely to result in Government espionage regulations as a result of the attack on the American transports is a closer censorship of outgoing mails and cables. No realignment of the detection machinery is planned.

The American steamer Orleans was sunk by a submarine and four members of the crew drowned. Fred H. Freeman, of Henderson, Ky., was a naval gunner on the Orleans. He, with all naval gunners aboard, was rescued.

Lord Northcliffe, in an address before the National Press Club July 4, just made public, discussed England's method of dealing with spies and declared a mail and cable censorship absolutely essential.

In a controversy yesterday over the war, John Walters, a native German, was killed by Claude Porgy while the two were at work in the lumber yard of the Wood Mosaic Company.

SUNDAY.

London was subjected yesterday to an air raid on perhaps a larger scale than any the Germans had previously attempted. A score or more of airplanes flew over the center of the city, diving down suddenly to a comparatively low altitude, dropping their bombs quickly and spreading some damage in the heart of London and killed thirty-seven persons and injured 141. These official figures show the casualties to have been not nearly so heavy as in the big raid of June 13, when 151 persons were killed and 430 injured.

On that occasion the Germans lost one machine, according to the British admission, while Berlin claimed all its machines returned safely. This time, however, four of the German raiders were brought down, one by army aviators at the mouth of the Thames and three after an engagement with British naval aviators forty miles out at sea on the return trip.

Furthermore, British airmen at Dunkirk, across the channel, who went out looking for the raiders and failed to find them, did such effective repressive work on other German aircraft that seven hostile machines were accounted for within a brief period.

Rules governing exemption bonds have been received in Frankfurt, and will be distributed soon. Among other things they provide that the Provost Marshal General, the same in any other man who is not satisfied with decisions, has the right of appeal.

The Exports Council yesterday took under consideration the food needs of foreign countries, allied and neutral. The council is said to favor a complete embargo of sixty days while the needs are being determined.

The sinking of a British torpedo boat destroyer by a German submarine in the North Sea, with the loss of eight men, is announced in London.

A meeting of members of all Spanish parties has called upon the Government to call a session of Parliament immediately.

German cities are again without potatoes and will be until the new crop comes in, according to London reports.

Two Norwegian vessels have been sunk by submarines. Fourteen men are missing.

The Russian war mission yesterday concluded its official visit to New York City.

MONDAY.

Important developments may be expected from Berlin within the next few days. Advice from the German capital and neutral countries agree that important internal political moves are brewing. Also, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Imperial Chancellor, is expected to make an important speech dealing with the question of peace in the Reichstag Monday or Tuesday.

Field Marshal von Sindenbergh and Gen. von Ludendorff, his Chief of Staff, have reached Berlin for conferences and Emperor William has returned hurriedly from Vienna. The Emperor is announced officially, visited the Imperial Chancellor immediately on his return, and received from him a report on the situation.

President Wilson has issued a proclamation putting into effect Government control of American exports so that the United States, her allies and neutrals may be supplied properly, and that no supplies may reach the Central Powers. Coal and fuel, food and grains, meats and fats, iron and steel, various kinds, arms, ammunition, and explosives are the important commodities put under Government control. The exportation of these goods will be controlled by licenses issued through a bureau of the Commerce Department.

Maj. Gen. Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, has issued an order to his troops commanding them to obey the laws of France, to avoid damage to property and to treat French people with courtesy. The permanent camp has already been established behind the fighting lines and a part of the troops undergoing intensive training.

Proposed legislation covering separation allowance for dependents of men in the military and naval services, compensation for injured soldiers and sailors, and pensions for widows and dependents was discussed in New York yesterday at a conference called by Samuel Gompers, chairman of the Committee on Labor of the Council of National Defense.

An official report made to the American Government shows that Germany is receiving valuable ore from Sweden which has been imported from the United States, and that the Allies are discriminated against extensively, many articles intended for Russia and other allied countries being held up.

An intensified demand for repairs has followed the air raids over London Saturday. Sunday newspapers declare the people of London are furious at the inadequacy of the city's defenses, as revealed by the raid. The demand for more airplanes through America's is made in the press.

Assisted by Prof. H. H. Cherry and teachers and students of the Western Normal School, the Bowling Green members of the National League for Woman's Service have prepared canning and drying demonstrations for every section of Warren-co.

Sergt. Andrew Campbell, an American aviator in France, won in a flight with death, with the chances of a million to one against him, when the lower left wing of his airplane broke when he was soaring a mile high.

TUESDAY.

If the Government closes all saloons within a two-mile radius of the cantonment for Kentucky and Indiana soldiers, as it has done in other cities where cantonments are located, 124 saloons in Louisville and suburbs will be forced out of business. Churchill towns and Douglas Park are included in the tentatively drafted zone, hence Louisville will have two bone dry race meets this fall. D. R. Lyman, chief engineer of the Board of Public Works, drew a map yesterday showing that the two-mile zone took in about one-fourth of the city of Louisville.

President Wilson issued a proclamation yesterday drafting the entire National Guard of the country into the United States army to date from August 1 next, and also calling the regiments out for active service. Fourteen camp sites for the sixteen tactical divisions into which the guard will be organized for war purposes have already been selected, and railway routing for the troops is being prepared. Seven of the sites selected are in the South-

New opposition developing convinced Senate leaders that the Administration Food Control Bill cannot be passed in its present form and Democratic Leader Martin called a meeting of the Democratic Steering Committee for today to discuss material changes. At the same time, failing to secure unanimous consent to limit future debate, Senator Chamberlain, in charge of the measure, filed a motion to invoke the Senate's new cloture rule.

A billion bushels increase over last year's production in the principal food crops is the response American farmers have made to President Wilson's appeal, saying that upon them "rests the fate of the war and the fate of the nations." A production of 6,083,000,000 bushels of the principal food crops was forecast by the Department of Agriculture.

Hallez, the key to Lemberg, capital of Galicia, is threatened seriously by the success of the second thrust of the Russians within ten days in Eastern Galicia. The Russians have taken Jezupol, eight miles south of Hallez, and four villages on the railway line. Gen. Brussloff reports the taking of 7,000 men, 131 officers and 48 machine guns. The attacks continue.

Six persons were killed and thirty-one injured in the explosion of a powder magazine at the Mare Island Navy Yard at Vallejo, Cal., yesterday. While no official statement has been made as to the cause of the explosion, officials said they believed it was due to a plot. Investigation has been started along these lines, it was said.

Following a conference between Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Chancellor, and Emperor William it was said that the Emperor endorsed the stand taken by the Chancellor in opposition to the demand for peace without annexation and indemnities.

Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, anarchists, were found guilty of conspiracy to obstruct the draft last night. The sentence is two years in the penitentiary and a $10,000 fine. Both are liable to be deported at the end of their terms.

The late John Bartlett Pierce, radiator manufacturer of Peabody, Mass., bequeathed to 400 of his employees $1,000,000, and 60 per cent of the income on $2,500,000, for faithful services.

James W. Gorard, former Ambassador to Germany, has resigned and will take up private business again.

WAYNE, W. VA.

On last Saturday Sheriff John S. Billups retired from the office of Sheriff and turned over to Sheriff H. H. Cyrus all the balances which were in his hands. Mr. Billups has served the people faithfully and well. He has treated the people courteously and retires with the good will of the majority of our citizens. He has not announced his plans for the future.

Pharo Oshurn, Donald Clark and Dr. I. W. Rife have been designated as the conservation board for Wayne-co. No doubt each of these gentlemen would have been glad if others had been assigned this important duty, but no resignations will be accepted by the government and when a board is appointed it is imperative that the service be rendered.

The third and last Uniform examination for the year 1917, will be held on July 19 and 20, at Kenova, Ft. Gay and Wayne. The examination will be for elementary certificates and the various special certificates.

The County Court placed an order on the records adopting in the main the routes laid out on the map to be known as class A roads at a session held Friday afternoon. The routes adopted by the court are as follows:

Beginning at Kenova thence to Wayne by way of Lavalette and Dickson; thence to Fort Gay by Traces and Big Hurricane. Starting at the mouth of Trace and up the Right Fork of Twelve Pole to Wells Branch; thence up Moses Fork and down Bull Creek to Crum and to Mingo line at Marrowbone creek. Starting again at Wayne by way of East Lynn and to the Lincoln county line in an easterly course.

Dr. H. D. Hatfield, former governor of West Virginia has been commissioned as a major in the medical corps of the United States army, and will probably see service on the battlefields of France.

Shortly after the declaration of war, Dr. Hatfield tendered his services to the government and recently received notice that he had been accepted and commissioned with the rank of major.

TUBERCULOSIS CURABLE.

A reduction of more than 25 per cent in the death rate from tuberculosis in the ten years that the scientific treatment has been followed, whose value has been proved by experience, indicates that in time man's most insidious enemy may be destroyed or rendered practically harmless. The treatment provides for very little medicine and that must be taken only on the prescription of a physician, pure air, plenty of sunlight, no dissipation, nourishing food, cleanliness, and rest. A pamphlet giving full instructions will be sent on application to Dr. W. L. Hietzer, secretary of the State Tuberculosis Commission, Frankfort.

PREPARE FOR WINTER. SAVE HOME GARDEN SURPLUS.

PRESERVE what you can. CAN what you can. DRY what you can. Lose nothing of perishable products that it is possible to save. Preserve as many products in your garden as you CAN, DRY, EVAPORATE, PICKLE or BRINE. By the drying method, all of the surplus water is driven off by placing the products on trays in the sun, over a stove, or before an electric fan. Dried fruits and vegetables can be kept in bags and boxes tight enough to exclude insects. Soaking in water will bring the products back to a large extent to their original state, and they may be cooked like fresh products.

There may be a shortage of cans and glass jars, but all kinds of receptacles can be utilized. Put fruit juices in ordinary bottles, sealing with a cork and paraffin. Preserved or jammed fruits or berries can be put in glasses and sealed with paraffin, or in wide-necked bottles, if the cans and jars are not readily obtainable.

Dry such vegetables as sweet corn, snap and string beans, shelled peas, shelled peas and the root crops. If you have plenty of corn or jars all of the above named vegetables can be canned. Write for bulletin by canning if same is desired.

is desired, to State Department of Agriculture, Frankfort, Ky.

Do not have an empty container in your home next fall. Do your part to prevent FOOD WASTE.

Soldiers Put Through Eight Hours Of Hard Drill Each Day.

A French Seaport, July 7.—The American troops to-day entered on the final steps of the mobilization that shall prepare them to leave within a few days for a permanent training camp somewhere behind the firing line. The unloading of supplies is almost finished and rolling stock is being concentrated here preparatory to the departure of the troops. The days have been used profitably for a double purpose.

The more important one was to put the majority of the soldiers through a vigorous grind of eight full hours each day. French officers who had seen service at the front took part in these exercises in order to give the benefit of their experience to the American soldiers. The drills included a daily plunge in the sea, this phase of the sanitation programme made easy by the proximity of the camp to the ocean.

The other advantage taken of the time spent here was to employ smaller groups of the more seasoned troops to put the final touches on the camp so that it will be in first-class shape. The camp, in the last few days, has been expanded enormously until today it extends for miles and can accommodate a large number of men. Water has been piped from the town and the system is equipped with every modern device.

The drill ground is not only ideal for the purpose, but has the advantage of being at a distance, so that the men get a daily hike of about five miles.

For the men arriving at this and similar mobilization bases the American system of living in tents or wooden shacks will be followed, but when they arrive at a permanent camp they will be billeted among the townspeople and live in houses.

Few if any of the soldiers know just where they are to be sent, but all are enthusiastic at the prospect of getting nearer the scene of action. Their spirits are fine and their health is of the best with the exception of a few cases of mumps. The men have swamped the officers of their companies with a deluge of letters that must pass through a censorship.

This morning a military funeral was held for the only man that died since the American troops arrived here. He was Boatswain's Mate J. J. Dunn, who was drowned when he fell overboard from a launch and was carried under before his comrades could reach him.

U. S. SOLDIERS LIKE NICKNAME "SAMMIES."

Sincerity Of French Gratitude Evident
Everywhere, Says Pershing.

Paris, July 7.—"The sincerity and depth of French gratitude to America was evident everywhere," said Maj. Gen. Pershing, the American commander, in speaking to-day of the reception given to the American troops which he made in Paris on the Fourth of July. "It was affecting to see women, children and French soldiers marching along with our men. I feel that our presence in France is appreciated deeply and that it is having an admirable effect, as our people at home. It was the most impressive parade I ever saw."

"The General was reluctant at first to make any statement, but the French demonstration impressed him as so extraordinary that he wished to make it clear that the troops in France understood the spirit in which the French received them, and appreciated it. In his dealings with the French military authorities and members of the French Government the General encounters the same spirit of sympathetic good will.

The American soldiers think that "Sammies," the popular French name for them, is a pleasing one, suggesting that they are Uncle Sam's men. That seems to be the word which will be used colloquially in France to correspond with "Tommy" for the British, and for "Polliw" for the French.

CLIP THIS AND PIN
ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or callouses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch! ? ? ? This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callous stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callous dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callous from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a small bottle for you.

GREEN VALLEY.

There will be at this place on Saturday night, July 14, a pic social and fishing pond. Come on, boys and girls, old ladies and gentlemen. You are sure to enjoy yourself. Begins at seven p. m. Proceeds for benefit of pastor.

CATLETTSBURG NEWS

Tunnel Kline Completed.

Messrs. P. H. Meehan, H. M. Robertson, L. M. Pease and C. A. Shepherd, representing the American Dresser tunnel kline, of New York City, have gone to other points after having completed the kline for the Sanitary manufacturing plant of Kenova. Messrs. Meehan, Shepherd and Pease go to Newcasttle, Pa., and Mr. Robertson to Zanesville, Ohio, where they will establish kline in manufacturing in the respective cities. There are only four tunnel kline in the world at the present time, the one at Kenova being the largest and it is a real curiosity and required a long time and extreme skill and workmanship in the building. This company was building kline in Belgium at the outbreak of the war with Germany. The engineers in charge of the work were so interested in the work that they refused to leave the place where engaged and consequently were taken prisoners by the German army and held and are now being fed by the English government. The young men who have been in charge of the plant at Kenova had become great social favorites here and will be missed from society circles. Mr. Meehan was the chief engineer in charge of this great piece of work. He was selected by the company out of a vast number of engineers to superintend the construction of the kline.

Died At Hospital.

Mrs. Nancy Wigginton-Dalton died at a hospital at Huntington after a long and lingering illness. Several of her children were at her bedside. She was 53 years old, was a member of the Baptist church and was well respected and esteemed. The body was brought here to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wayne Dameron, and accompanied by her children was taken to the old home at Dunlow, W. Va., for interment.

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. John McClure had the pleasure of entertaining four cousins of Mr. McClure at a noon dinner. They were Prof. J. B. McClure, of Louisa, J. M. McClure, Bluefield, S. M. McClure, of Huntington, and little daughter, Elizabeth, and A. H. McClure, of Yuma, Arizona. The three former came here to meet the latter brother, who has arrived from the west for a visit.

Valuable Process To Be Taught.

Mrs. Alex Brown, the Misses Patton and Mrs. E. P. Finney, patriotic ladies attended the evaporating drying demonstration in Ashland, and Mrs. Brown has arranged to teach a class in this process should same be desired. The lessons will be free.

Successful Operation.

Hugh Ratliff, the seventeen year old son of John C. Ratliff, of Harrell, Ky., was operated on by Dr. A. P. Banfield. His adenoids and tonsils were removed. He has returned home.

Went To Columbus.

Dr. A. C. Bond, accompanied by his brother, Dr. O. K. Bond and wife, moved to Columbus Tuesday and returned, the former to tend the army surgeon's uniform, he having been called to the colors.

Wanted At Louisa.

S. Gamble, wanted in Louisa on a charge of having hit a man on the head with a black jack and fracturing his skull, was arrested over in Ohio and taken back to Louisa. He spent the night in the Ashland prison.

Learns Son Lives.

Brace Worthington, of Baltimore, Md., who is attending court as a witness in the Magoffin fraud cases, is the happiest man in Catlettsburg. In 1915 his son, Charles Worthington, went to France with the second Canadian contingent and was engaged in the campaigns around Ypres, Verdun and on the Somme. He wrote his father May 2, that he was the only man in his regiment that had not been killed or wounded.

May 8 his father received a cablegram announcing that young Worthington was officially reported missing. After having believed his son dead since the cablegram of May 8, Mr. Worthington on July 4, received a cablegram from the British authorities announcing that his son was alive and held as a prisoner by the Germans.

Enroute East.

J. W. Wine and wife of Wayland, Ky., were in the city yesterday enroute to Harrisonburg, Va., Atlantic City and other interesting points in the east. Mr. Wine is secretary and purchaser of the Elk Horn Coal corporation of Wayland, Kentucky.

Called By Death.

Many of our people were in Ashland at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Songer, on account of the death of Hon. Henry Sullivan, who had spent the second night previous to his death in this city, attending the last night of entertainment and later played some spirited games of checkers with Mr. H. H. Killgore. He was well known and dearly beloved here and was closely related to many of our best people. One can scarcely realize that he is gone, since he was here full of life and vigor. His death following that of Mr. Ed Wechsler, another popular citizen, who was called in the prime of his vigor and manhood, to answer the last summons, causes one to wonder what is to come next in the way of shock and sadness. "The air is full of forebodings to the dying and mournings for the dead; The heart of Rachel for her children crying And wanting to be comforted"

Picnic Party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hise of South Ashland, gave a picnic party at Cliffeville Park honoring her niece Georgia Riffe, of Glenwood, Ky. Those who attended the picnic were Misses Fannie Peering, Fay Rice, Kitty Copley, Frances Alberta Peering and Pauline Davis. Messrs. Paul Copley, W. M. Williams and Pearly Copley.

Visitor Here.

Miss Mabel Mayo, of Prestonburg, has been visiting here as the guest of Miss Anna Borders and Mrs. J. J. Kimrick.

ington where they had spent a few days as guests of Mrs. John Alley.

Mrs. S. J. Justice and sons, Earl and Arthur, returned from Huntington Monday where they had been guests of Mr.
and Mrs. Guy Atkinson a few days.

Misses Lou Chaffin, Elizabeth Conley, Helen Vinson, Vivian Hays and Kizzie Eurns are spending the weekend with Miss Marie Roberts at Cadmus.

Willie Swetnam came in from Blaine and was accompanied home by his cousin, Miss Ruhanna Dixon, of Huntington, W. Va., who will spend a few days there.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elkins returned to their home in Portsmouth Thursday after a visit to relatives near Louisa. Mrs. Elkins is the daughter of John H. Thompson.

Mrs. J. B. May passed through Louisa Wednesday returning from a visit in Paintsville to her home at Stone, Ky. She is remembered here as Miss Jennie Spradlin.

Mrs. Julia Bartram, of Fort Gay, and Mrs. Mary Conley left this morning for Kise station where they were called by the serious illness of their brother, Mr. John P. Burgess.

Mrs. Annie Copley and daughter, of Stone, W. Va., were here last week visiting her brother, Thos. Luther. They went on to Crum, W. Va., for a visit to Wm. Queen and family.

Mrs. J. M. Turner and children, Emily Cornelia, John and Phoebe Louise, and Miss Hermia Northup went to Gallup last Friday to spend a week at the home of Mrs. G. W. Owens.

Walter Clayton, operator working nights at Lockwood, jumped from a moving train Friday with the usual result—a badly damaged face and head.
Nothing serious, but a narrow escape.

Misses Ruhanna Dixon, of Huntington, W. Va., and Miss Rebecca Garred were down from Kise Friday. Miss Dixon is the daughter of Hien Dixon, who lived in Louisa several years ago. She is visiting at Kise.

Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Shannon and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shannon expect to visit in Huntington, W. Va., the latter part of next week and from there Rev. Shannon and family will go to Logan, W. Va., for a few days.

Miss May Leslie, who had been spending her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. E. Leslie, in Burkeville, Va., was in Louisa last Friday on her way to Pike-co., where she will teach in the school at Guilmar. She is one of the most successful teachers in the State.

Prof. George McClure, of Danville and Dr. W. B. McClure and daughter, Miss Martha, of Lexington, have been visiting Mrs. Martha McClure, their mother, for several days. Prof. McClure came here from Hartford, Conn., where he had been to respond to the address of welcome made by the mayor of that city to the National Association of Deaf Mute teachers.

FRENCH GENERAL HONORS AMERICAN WHO WAS KILLED.

Paris, July 10.—Paul J. Osborne, Mr.
Cahoe, N. J., who died of wounds June 22 while in the service of the American Ambulance, was buried with military honors. The funeral was attended by Gen. A. Barater, of Fashoda fame, who said:

"In the name of the 134th division I salute Soldier Osborne, who came at the outbreak of the war to aid us to triumph for right, liberty and justice."

"In his person I salute the army of the United States, which is fighting with us. The same ideal inspires and leads us onward, we are fighting to save the liberty of the world. Soldier Osborne, my thoughts go out to your parents, who on the other side of the ocean will learn of the grief that has stricken them.

"I know that words have no power to lessen a mother's sorrow, but I know too that the ideal which she inspired in the heart of her son will be able, if not to dry her tears, at least to transform them, for it is through these tears, the tears of all the mothers of all women, that victory will come, that victory which will assure the peace of the world, which will be theirs more than any other's, since they will have paid for it with their hearts.

"Soldier Osborne, sleep on in the midst of your French comrades fallen gloriously like you. Sleep on wrapped in the folds of the United States flag in the shade of the banner of France."

Gen. Barater then placed the corpse on the coffin, which was gently lowered to the grave.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

To the people of Kise and vicinity:
Jake will conduct a sale at the old Kise stand, beginning about 19th to 20th of this month. Everybody prepare. Never in the history of Lawrence county has there been such a money saving sale pulled off as it will be at the Kise stand for about 10 days. Watch our posters for particulars which will be distributed soon. Jake Israsky will be the man that will conduct the sale.

A WARNING AGAINST THREATENED DANGER.

It is the hope that the existence of tuberculosis in any form will be considered by all medical examiners as a bar to enlistment in the army and navy.
The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has sent resolutions to the President, the Council of National Defense and the Secretaries of the army and navy urging the importance of a rigid examination for the disease or persons with a history of it to prevent the spread of tuberculosis among the men, through the breaking down of afflicted persons.
A tendency to the disease develops rapidly under the stress and rigors of army life and the experience of the French armies in the field, a large number of whose men have become invalids, should make us use every precaution to prevent a similar result in ours. The most highly trained men available should be utilized for the examinations, which should be continued from time to time in the camps for the purpose of detecting any obscure tu-bercular lesions. The Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission has arranged to offer the services of the best trained doctors in the State for tuberculous examinations, and will co-operate in every way to detect tuberculosis in the enlisted men who may become a charge on the government. It realizes that now is the time to make the stitch which will save nine and will endeavor to have it made.

week of September 17th. The great Chamber of Commerce building, with its capacity for more than 200 booths and additional departments for domestic science, agricultural and horticultural displays will be thronged during the entire week, with an anticipated attendance of from 15,000 to 20,000 daily.
The amusement features this year will be superb. Cincione's Italian Concert band of forty pieces will deliver concerts daily, and two famous vocalists will sing at each performance. The indoor circus will be a great show all in itself, consisting of many standard cir-

The Ticket

It Led to Complications

By AGNES G. BROGAN

There was the girl again! Billy Thornton frowned at her sudden entrance into the car—not that there was anything about the fresh, innocent countenance to call forth a masculine frown. Jane Wilder was exactly the opposite kind of girl. But Billy never had met her, and was more anxious to meet her than for anything else in the world, and, though she was always appearing in most unexpected places in a delightfully disturbing manner, still she, the ideal, remained as far distant as some beautiful, wonderful star.

"How," mused Billy to himself—"how in the world could the proper meeting be brought about?" Sometimes he was pleased to fancy a responsive interest in the girl's glance of quickly veiled recognition in her several encounters. "How—oh, how?"

"So glad to see you, dearie," murmured an old lady, bending over his divinity from the seat behind. "You are on your way to the child welfare meeting, of course. How busy you keep yourself with everything of an uplifting nature! I don't see how you do it."

The girl laughed as she turned around. Billy's heart thumped in sympathy with the clear joyousness of the sound. Never had he heard her voice or laugh before, and in nothing was she disappointing. Recklessly he allowed the windows of his office, where Braydon was waiting to see him upon an important commission, to fade into distance. He would sit here in this seat until the girl left the car.

"Oh, I am not voluntarily busy," she answered the old lady, "just drawn into the work by my friends. Meetings are all this week, you know—evenings for the men. We must interest voters. Lillis is one of the ushers, so it was she who solicited my aid, the dean of our old college being tonight's speaker."

"I would like to go," the old lady responded. Eagerly the girl fumbled in her purse. "So sorry," she said at length. "I have no more tickets, and admission is all by ticket invitation."

She jumped to her feet. "My corner!" she cried. "Goodbye, Mrs. West. It was then that Billy heard the coveted name."

"Goodbye, Jane Wilder," said the old lady.

"Jane Wilder." Mentally he echoed the name. "It was like her somehow." To him it sounded quaint and sweet. He was planning as he brushed through the crowd in the streets to obtain tickets in some manner for that evening's "welfare" meeting. It would be in the auditorium, of course, and she had said by invitation only. He remembered reading an account of the affair in the papers. Former pupils of the college represented by the speaker were to act as ushers. Surely one might speak to an usher, and surely one might select one's particular usher. Billy began to whistle.

The low but merry tune seemed to annoy rather than cheer the tall young man who swung impatiently about in Billy's pet office chair.

"Great Scott," Braydon ejaculated in greeting, "you come in more than thirty minutes late and happy as a May day! I want without my own lunch in order to get over here on time, while you—"

"Say," remarked Billy absently, "where can a fellow get tickets for tonight's child welfare meeting?"

Braydon's feet came to the floor with a bang. "What's the matter with you, Thornton?" he asked.

Billy waved the question impatiently aside. "Where can I get them?" he insisted.

"How the dickens do I know?" the man replied. Suddenly he glanced at Billy's eager face. "Why this unusual interest in a strange cause?" he asked.

Deliberately Billy sought himself in an opposite chair. "There is a girl," he answered seriously, "whom I am very anxious to meet. She will be there tonight. Among that old college crowd we must have mutual acquaintances. If you can direct me to any one who might possibly have a spare ticket of invitation I'd be obliged. That's all." His friend considered. "Why, there's Jack Maynard," he said. "His wife was a student at that college. I'll speak to him. Before we get down to business, what's the name of this girl, Billy? Might know her myself."

Thornton's eyes took on their previous reminiscent gleam. "Wilder," he repeated softly—"Jane Wilder."

In the desperate hope of hearing from Jack Maynard he lingered in the office long past closing time and at last was rewarded by the appearance of a messenger bearing an envelope marked, with the date, "Ticket to auditorium meeting." Billy's slinking spirits soared to their highest level. That very evening he should see her again at least—that evening. There was not much time for dinner. The auditorium would be crowded.

For a moment as he waited in the entrance Billy's eyes roved excitedly among the white gowned tiers of ushers. Then at length he spied her. She was even more charming with her uncovered golden head than in the fetching hats of his remembrance, and—yes, she was coming slowly toward him. A rather stout woman usher put out her hand.

"Ticket, please," she demanded. But Billy smiled in the direction of the oncoming little figure.

"Waiting," he said. Miss Jane Wilder's gaze was entirely impersonal. Silently she accepted and read his ticket; then "Oh!" she breathed. Vaguely troubled, he glanced down at the golden head. Surprise, disappointment—what was it that showed for a moment in the eyes upraised to his?

"This way," she said, and Billy followed her down the aisle. But at the choice seat designated the stout over-seeing usher reappeared.

"Must be some mistake," she argued loudly. "This section reserved for ushers and their husbands only. Let me see your ticket." Billy was about to apologize and withdraw—other fortunate possessors of nearly seats interestedly watched the outcome—when his director's voice sounded distinctly.

"It's all right, Mrs. Sayles," she said. "The ticket reads, 'Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maynard.' Mrs. Maynard is not here this evening, but she ushered at this afternoon's meeting."

Before Billy could collect his senses, before he could deny to the one girl in all the world this fatal imputation, the two white clad women, whispering, moved away together. And to this end had his scheming led him. The girl whose love he craved was now, through a senseless mistake, removed from him forever. Henceforth he was in her eyes but the wedded husband of a certain Mrs. Jack Maynard. Why hadn't he glanced at the confounded ticket instead of rushing with it like a fool?

Despairingly Billy looked about, after the curtain, if here he might still find one friend, perhaps also of her acquaintance, but all were strangers, not one familiar face. Broodingly he made his way to the door. Out in the vestibule he hesitated to throw on his coat, and presently from a merry, chattering throng she made her way to him.

The wonder of her sudden presence there at his side, the smile that was unmistakably for him, held him for the moment speechless.

"I hope the evening has been a pleasant one," she said and held out her hand. Billy saw that the hand was extending to him a small white envelope and took it. Then his dream abruptly ended.

"A ticket for the mothers' meeting tomorrow, Mr. Maynard," she said. "Please give it to your wife."

Before his denying lips could even form a reply she had vanished. It was a decidedly grouchy Billy Thornton whom his tall friend found in the office the next day.

"Enjoy the night meeting?" Braydon casually inquired.

"The dance?" answered Billy.

"As to that Miss Wilder," the friend went on. "Happen to know people who in turn know her. Take you over to meet her if you like."

Billy's grouch evaporated. "Tonight?" he asked crisply.

"Tonight," replied Braydon. Billy banged down the cover of his desk in a spirit of joyful anticipation. In ten minutes he would explain all to her. And after that—well, if he didn't win out in the old game of love it would not be because with all his heart and soul he had not tried. He wished that Braydon would refrain from entering into that old business problem on the way to the house where he was to meet her. He wanted to go over in his mind the things that he would say.

Before he realized it they were in the brilliantly lighted reception room and he was bowing before a sweet faced woman presented as Mrs. Jack Maynard, who immediately, taking Billy in charge, led him to a girlish figure at the farther end of the room.

"Miss Wilder," she announced rather absently and hurried back to his friend. The "one girl" smiled up at him.

"We are not quite strangers," she said, "but I am afraid you forgot to give the ticket to Mrs. Maynard. She was absent, I noticed, from the afternoon meeting, and you—"

"Miss Wilder," it was the interrupting voice of Braydon—"come here just a moment, please, to settle a dispute."

Billy savagely ground his heel on the rug as others came to claim the girl's attention, keeping her from him. When was this silly affair to be straightened? Who was the real Jack Maynard?

Interminably the evening dragged and no opportunity for a further word with the girl of his dreams. In her eyes he was now no doubt just the uninteresting husband of her hostess, while in his eyes—Billy rapturously caught his breath as he looked at her—she grew each moment fairer.

In sudden determination he crossed to where she sat before the piano.

"I want to talk to you," he said. The girl's fingers rested upon the keys. Half turning, she looked up at him.

"I'm not Jack Maynard," Billy blurted out desperately, "and I'm not married. It was a confounded—I beg your pardon—only a borrowed ticket."

The laughing challenge of her eyes gave him sudden courage. "I have wanted—no, that's not the word—I have desired above all things for months to meet you," he went on, then paused. His eyes were saying more.

"My name is Thornton," he ended abruptly—"William Thornton."

Miss Jane Wilder arose and stood before him. "I know it," she said quietly, "and I knew it all along. Back there at church that day a friend pointed you out to me. Yesterday when Jack Maynard asked for a ticket for you to the meeting it was I who suggested that he lend you his." She laughed softly. "It was wicked of me to pretend," she admitted—"wicked, but it did not take you so long to bring this—she paused and held out her hand—"about."

Fervently Billy grasped the proffered hand; fervently he bent to look down into the girl's face. Then deep and happily he sighed. "At last!" breathed Billy.

"Ticket, please," she demanded. But

"Ticket, please," she demanded. But

What a Prima Donna Writes From Real Experience.

ENTERTAINS BETWEEN SONGS

Our Mary Garden, Between Singing at the Comique and Taking Needed Rests, Entertains and Cheers Poilu From the Tranches in Her Home.

Stage women are long since organized to give their services to country wide preparation both in performances to raise money for Red Cross purposes and to assist in recruiting. Indeed, one actress is walking across the continent, accompanied by her faithful dog, winning army recruits on her way.

Aid for Scottish soldiers wounded on the continent has been the special care of Mary Garden, so long prima donna of French operas. And now she writes from Paris:

occasion, by musicians who know our national air and by many others who obviously did not know it. I have heard it hummed and sung and whistled to the accompaniment of applause and cheers.

"Dixie" challenges the Parisian ear almost as quickly as it does our good Yankees in America. This favorite air of the south is frantically applauded daily by French auditors, who accept it as one of our national airs rather than a musical contribution of one of the sections of our nation. 'Suwannee River' and Sousa's marches are other airs now immensely popular in Paris.

"Between the nights when I sing here at the Comique and the time that I must take for rest between performances I still find time to give attention to the hospital and relief work with which I have identified myself since the war began.

"France rightly persists in giving her fighting soldiers respite and fun. Long. Men who have been under heavy fire at the front are withdrawn and have the opportunity to steady their nerves for a few days before going back into battle.

"So the work we have undertaken is to entertain the men home on furloughs—not the officers, but the so-called common soldiers. A group of my friends decided with me that we would take only those privates whose families are in exile, having been driven into Germany from the French towns and territory occupied by the Germans.

"Imagine their state of mind. I have five of these in my home today and will have as many more tomorrow. They are brave and stoical, but utterly and absolutely alone. Whether their wives and children are alive they do not know, for their families have been herded like cattle and driven into an enemy country to work at whatever tasks their captors designate."

Ginger Snaps.

Cream one-half cupful butter and one-half cupful lard and add one cupful sugar, one cupful molasses and one-half cupful water. To two cupfuls of flour add one teaspoonful soda, one tablespoonful ginger, one tablespoonful cinnamon and one teaspoonful cloves. Add this flour to butter and sugar, mixture and put in enough more flour to make a stiff dough. Chill on ice and roll very thin. This makes a large number of cookies, but they keep well. When cut with small cutter they are excellent to serve with afternoon teas.

Concerning Screens.

If you live so near the public pavement that passersby can look into your house try painting the screen doors with a very thin coat of white paint, and you can look out, but people passing cannot see into your living rooms.

If you rub the screens of windows and doors with kerosene the flies will not come near as long as the odor lasts.

What Became of George Deering

By F. A. MITCHEL

A girl was working in a garden. Hearing a footstep on the walk, she looked up and saw a young man coming. Resting on her hoe, she looked at him intently.

"Morning," he said, dawning his hat when he reached her.

"Morning," responded the girl.

"Can you tell me where the Deering family have gone to? They lived half a mile down the road on this side."

"I remember that there was a family living there when I was a little girl, but I don't know what has become of them."

"Putting in beets?" looking down at a drill.

"No, lettuce."

"Everybody's gardening this year."

"Yes. We've got to garden or starve. Prices of provisions are prohibitive."

There was a brief silence. The girl continued to loosen the soil with her hoe, then took up a rake and smoothed the ground from stones and tufts of grass. The young man showed no sign of moving on.

"So you can't tell me where the Deering family have moved to?" he said presently.

"No, I can't."

"Wasn't there a son, George?"

"George? George?" repeated the girl, as if trying to recall the person mentioned.

"I've been told he was the worst boy in the county. No apple tree was safe from him, and as for a watermelon patch, they say he would carry off a melon as big as a small barrel under each arm."

"If he was like that the county is well rid of him," the girl suggested.

"He was about eighteen when he left here, and I've been told that the night before he went he made love to one of the girls of the place, asking her to be his wife and telling her all sorts of yarns about how he was going to put her into a big house and dress her up fine, and all that. The next day he disappeared and never turned up again."

"There are lots of men like that in the world."

"Going to put in any potatoes?"

"Reckon not. Seed potatoes cost so much that I question if it would pay. It certainly wouldn't if the price of potatoes gets back to a reasonable figure."

"You say you don't remember George Deering?"

"If he was any such fellow as you have described I don't want to remember him."

She started another drill. The man took up a fork and opened the ground for her. When he had done so and removed some of the earth with the hoe he said:

"That'll be easier for you."

She thanked him and resumed her work.

"Do you see that beech tree over there?" he asked, pointing to a tree some fifty yards distant.

"Of course I do."

"I'm going over to look at it."

She made no comment, and he sauntered over to the tree, under which was a rustic bench. He glanced meditatively at the bench, but proceeded to the trunk of the tree and looked at some letters that had been made by carving the bark. It had grown together so as to give them an appearance of having grown there naturally.

"Won't you please come here?" he called to the girl.

She dropped a trowel and advanced toward him. When she reached him, pointing to the letters on the tree trunk he asked:

"Whose initials are those?"

"The upper ones?"

"Yes."

"Those are mine."

"And those beneath?"

"I can't see them."

This was true; her eyes were dimmed with moisture.

"These letters," continued the young man, "stand for Eva Butterfield and George Deering. I know George very well. He's a faulty chap and no mistake, but there are pillaging circumstances in his case. Sit down here and I'll tell you something about him."

He led her to the bench, where they sat down side by side. Then he continued:

"George struck bad luck from the start. He didn't write to Eva because he had nothing cheerful to write. At least he didn't send her a letter. He wrote one or two, but on reading them over they appeared to him so hopeless that he tore them up. Several years later the prospect before him mended, and he said, 'If I make some money I'll write to Eva.' He did make a little money, which gave him something to work with to make more, but when he sat down to write to Eva it occurred to him that he had treated her unparadoxically. The only hope for him was to go to her and tell her so, and maybe she would forgive him."

"About that time a chance was offered him to get in on the ground floor of a big operation, and he concluded to wait awhile. If the scheme turned out well he might make good the stupid boast he had made the night he parted from her. It turned out bigger than his wildest dreams."

The girl had been looking at the toes of her shoes. When he ceased speaking she turned her face to his. Not a word was spoken, but a great deal was done. After being looked for some time in each other's arms George asked:

"Did you know me?"

"From the first moment I first saw you."

We are little people with four one-horse stores and sell only for cash and produce. Give us a call. 7-13-17. BIG BLAINE PRODUCE COMPANY H. J. Pack, Manager. BLAINE, KENTUCKY

THREE YEARS' SAVINGS

Of Herself and Husband Used By Woman To Kindle a Fire.

Alliance, Ohio, May 24.—Mrs. Rosa Cefor wishes she and her husband had invested their three years' savings, $650, in liberty loan bonds. Last night she placed three $100 bills, six $50 and five $10 bills in a handkerchief under her pillow. To-day she unintentionally gathered up the handkerchief along with some newspapers, and used it to start a furnace fire. Not even the ashes of the currency remained.

That is what happens to people who do not deposit their money in bank.

EAST POINT AND AUXIER.

The large mercantile establishment of J. C. B. Auxier, a pool room and grocery store belonging to the late Green Wells estate at Auxier, were destroyed by fire one night last week. The property belonging to Auxier carried an insurance of $7,400, but the Wells property was uninsured. It was thought the fire originated in the pool room. Bent Wells, manager of the Wells store, saved some of his goods and is removing them to another building at the mouth of Johns creek.

Charley Castle of Bonanza, and Miss Emma Harris of Prestonburg, began school at Auxier Monday.

Mrs. E. E. Archer has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Hager at Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adkins and children of Auxier have returned from a visit to Mrs. Adkins' mother, Mrs. H. J. Daniels at Ashland.

Miss Topsy Hatcher has returned to St. Louis to re-enter school. The Medical College at that place opening earlier on account of the war.

Mrs. Eugene Davis is home from a trip to Cincinnati and Huntington. Greenville Meek is home from the army at Louisville, on a furlough.

School will open at East Point soon with Prof. John Burke, Mr. Henry Burke and a Mr. Hamilton, the latter of Red Bush, as teachers.

Mr. Walters, the popular clerk at the commissary at Auxier, was a guest at Dr. W. L. Hatcher's Sunday.

Miss Onn Hager and brother, Charley of Hager Branch, were at Auxier Monday.

Polk Auxier, Jr., spent the 4th at Paintsville.

Crops in our community are looking well, except Irish potatoes which are dying from blight in some places. The blackberry crop is late and will be short.

Miss Mollie Musio went to West Van Lear Tuesday to spend a few days with her brother's wife, Mrs. Jeff Musio.

Mr. Jay Phelps and Miss Malta Sainmoo were married at the Christian church here Sunday evening.

ATTENTION HOUSEWIVES!

Home preparedness is cans loaded with food.

That rubber ring you put on a preserving jar helps you to stretch your income.

The awful question, "What shall I have for dinner?" is easily answered if your shelves are full of home canned products.

Can't eat 'em all in summer? Not enough in winter? Home canning is the answer.

You put a lid on waste every time you seal a preserving jar.

Canned berries are bird proof.

Frost doesn't nip canned vegetables. Canned green peas and yellow peaches help fight the blues.

See that your garden produces dry beans, cabbage, potatoes and root crops that can be kept without canning.

Get that canning impulse.

Make your hoe this summer keep your can opener busy next winter.

Get ready for canning season now. Root crops are the only things ever canned in the jars you forgot to order.

Can nothing that can be kept without canning. Dry such vegetables as corn, string beans, navy beans, mature lima beans, okra, etc.

You can brag about your garden all winter if you have your canned evidence on the dinner table.

Concentrate products, especially soup mixtures, so that each container will hold as much canned food and as little water as possible.

Really there is nothing in canning fruit and vegetables except care, cleanliness, fresh products, jars and heat.

Can Summer investment of time and money, small; winter returns in food and health, large.

Establish a home canning firm, "Father, Mother and Co."—Don't forget the little "co's."

Rubber rings You'll need good ones while the jars are still hot.

Let empty cans and jars wait for fruit. Don't try to make fruit wait long for containers.

The sooner into the can, the fresher the taste next winter.

Can for home use in glass containers, as tin cans may be scarce.

The scarcer fresh vegetables are—the more valuable are the canned ones.

HUDNALL, WEST VA.

Church was largely attended here Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Phillips and Mrs. Martha Hensley of Calloden W. Va., were visiting their mother, Mrs. Margaret Williamson, the past week.

Miss Norma Cornutte spent Thursday and Friday with Mrs. M. J. Heckerick. Mrs. D. F. Hinkley was in Charleston shopping Saturday.

Miss Pearl Cornutte is on the sick list.

Crops are looking fine in our town. Ernest Jones was called to Charleston by the death of his mother, Mrs. Livinda Jones.

The baptizing at Gallagher, W. Va., was largely attended.

Mrs. Tom Robinson and children were visiting their sister, Mrs. Edna Steele, of Gallagher.

The many friends of Miss Dorothy Penix were sorry to hear of her death. She was the daughter of Mr. James Penix of Cedar Grove, W. Va.

Mrs. Jesse Jones and children were visiting her mother, Mrs. Samantha Cornutte, of this place.

Will Alexander was calling here recently. There was a big dance at Gallagher the Fourth. Cupid says the wedding bells will ring in our town soon. BLUE BELL.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Naft the flag to the plow—

The country needs the grain,

While the sailor boys guard

The tracks of the main.

God gave you the fields

And the sun with its light;

Then doubles their yields

While the sailor boys fight.

Naft the flag to the plow—

The soldiers must eat

While defending the trenches

Or suffer defeat.

You can help the brave soldier

At this time of his need

By increasing your acres

And planting more seed.

Naft the flag to the plow—

Your children and wife

Must be saved from starvation

While the world is in strife.

Your duty is plain;

Your mission is grand;

Each man is a hero

Who's tilling the land.

You say you're too old

To fight with a gun;

Then work in the fields

'Till the setting of sun.

And show to the world

By the sweat on your brow

That you're serving your country

With a flag on your plow.

Eight Hours For Mother.

The principal of one of the leading schools of this country, in a public address said that the favorite work of most inventors is the invention of labor saving devices.

Time is money and time saved is money earned is the slogan of the great manufacturers. Financial gain without a corresponding moral gain is not progress. It is the proud boast of us Americans that the United States is the wealthiest nation time has produced, but of our moral wealth we have little to say. There is no short cut in the development of moral worth. No inventor has been enough to perfect a scheme or device that will save time in the growth of a sturdy character.

Moral character is essentially the work of the patient mothers of our land. They know no eight-hour limit. From early morning to late at night the Christian mother bends to her task. My boy, my girl, if the good mothers of this land should cease their labors for just one short week, the atmosphere of evil would be so dense that love and honor would be almost stifled.

While mother's labor of love is unlimited and hardly recognizes fatigue, mother's drudgery may know a limit. An eight-hour day for mothers, and even less physical tasks, is possible if son and daughter are thoughtful and dutiful. All of mother's work is measured by love, and love is really a hard taskmaster. Father, son, daughter, use your best endeavors to approximate mother's love—for you cannot match it. Does mother ever go on a strike? She might strike for more love, if that were possible, but never for shorter hours.

Is there a case on record where any one has forgotten his pure, right, educating mother? The weight of years does not dim the memories of childhood, but rather intensifies them. Back in those happy innocent days there stands one central figure—mother.

The undying love of mother is beautifully expressed by Holmes: "Youth fades; love droops; the leaves of friendship fall; a mother's secret hope outlives them all."

There is a certain species of reptile found in all parts of the known world; its home is not so much in the jungles and wilderness as one might suppose. This serpent frequents the basements of men, showing by this that it is of a sociable character; cities, villages, and the sparsely populated neighborhood, each and all claim its attention. The name of this serpent is slander. We hope it has no hiding place in the home of any of our readers. The Home Circle department is the best antidote yet discovered for this vile reptile, and seldom fails to drive it from the home it weekly visits.

Don't wait 'till someone is gone from you to tell their virtues. Don't wait 'till your sister is far away in another land to tell her how helpful, how pretty or how courteous she is; and don't wait 'till the weary hands are crossed and the long sleep comes before you make mother know what a beautiful blue her eyes, how tender her heart, and how dearly you love her. Tell it all now—now, when the walk thru life is hard, and the sunshine of praise is yearned for to brighten it, and to warm and encourage the pilgrim by the way-side.

Let the sunshine into the gloomy rooms have a couch to lie on, a piano to play on; in fact, a home to live in; one wherein a sense of hospitality and good cheer exudes from the very tables and chairs. Instead of a mausoleum of gloomy elegance, when everything is for show and nothing to be used.

There is an old saying to the effect that an untidy mother has disobedient children, and while neither parents or children may realize the why or wherefore of it, yet there is always a lack of respect and an indifference to the authority of a mother who takes no pride in her personal appearance.

The meekest men in the world are those who have allowed themselves to drift away from their mothers and forget all about them. The best and bravest men in the world are those who have never been so proud as when doing something pleasant for the kind old mother.

Do not choose a vocation for your daughter—do not insist that she become only a lady, when she might be a genius who knows but that the talent you repressed and strangled might have electrified the world. Give it free scope and a hearty welcome.

Henry Cooper, about 75 years old, of Rowan-co., committed suicide by taking strychnine. It is believed that his mind was deranged. He was a Confederate veteran. He had purchased the poison four years ago.

Geo. Jarvis, who was found near Olive Hill along C. and O. tracks suffering with fractured skull, died a few days later.

HELLIER NEWS

(By HARRY COHEN)

PRINCESS THEATER QUITS BUSINESS.

The Princess theater, the leading and best equipped theater perhaps in the Big Sandy valley, under the management of Cockill & Bartley will suspend doing business on July 30th. Cancellation notice of their lease has been sent to the owners of the building. The equipment of the Princess has been purchased by the new Star theater owners. On account of other interests the managers haven't time to give individual attention to the show and thought best to discontinue business.

NEW TRAIN SCHEDULE IS BITTERLY PROTESTED.

The C. & O. Railway company thinks that one express train, one mail service and rotten passenger service is sufficient for Hellier. They may think that, but it is absolutely absurd of anyone making or suggesting this change. A big protest is seen, where the coal companies, the merchants, the traveling public is bitterly protesting against the new schedule. Folks leaving Pikeville early in the morning are unable to return same day. People leaving Hellier in the afternoon are unable to return until the afternoon of next day. Mail is received once a day, and the mail is sent out once a day, and the same thing of the express on account of the present way the schedule is arranged. The C. & O. gets a big revenue out of Hellier, and each and every citizen should protest to the General Superintendent of the C. & O. railway company to restore service as previously, which is just enough. The Big Sandy division must take all the discarded cars of the C. & O. and they look as though they were never painted in the last twenty years. We are willing to put up, at least, with the service as previous to the present change, but the public will not put up with the rotten service the C. & O. is tendering Hellier now.

NEW SHOW BUILDING NEARING COMPLETION.

The big new Star theater show building, that is now well under way of construction is rapidly nearing completion. This building will have an enormous seating capacity. The Star theater has purchased practically the entire equipment of the Princess theater, and this will be installed in the new building. The Star theater is owned by a corporation consisting of home interests. The new building is attracting quite a bit of attention on account of the oddity of construction. The entrance of the theater will be where the stage is built in. In other words, when you step in the theater everyone will be looking right at you so come "dressed up."

FOURTH OF JULY PICNIC ON MOUNTAIN SIDE.

A huge picnic was the scene on the mountain side, near the Hellier station on the 4th day of July. The church members and the children of the Sunday school class participated. Those present were, including, Miss Lena Lyons and her best friend, Louis Pigg, Miss Flo Lyons and her best friend, Chas. A. Scott; Mrs. M. A. Lenton, Lookout, and a big host of others. Various games were played and a jolly time was reported. Delicious ice cream was served free on the grounds that delighted the multitudes of folks. Kodak pictures were taken on the ground.

OCCUPYING STAR THEATER BUILDING.

T. H. Fife & Son have moved from their former location near the Princess theater building, into the building vacated by the Star theater. On account of a continual increase of business, Fife was compelled to seek more spacious headquarters. Fife intends to equip his new place first class in every detail and will have the finest exclusive grocery store in Hellier.

J. B. EPLING MOVES.

J. B. Epling, who conducts a grocery store near the C. & O. station, has moved into the building vacated by T. H. Fife & Son. Mr. Epling says he will have a first class grocery and fruit store.

JACK ELKINS CONVALESCING.

Jack Elkins, employed by the Allegheny Coke company, who happened to an accident occurring in the mine, was brought home last week from the Louisville hospital, and his many friends will be glad to hear that he is now on the road to recovery. He got hurt to such an extent that little hope was entertained for his recovery, but apparently his condition was not as serious as thought to be.

NEW ARRIVAL AT HOME OF POLICE JUDGE WEBB.

A bouncing baby girl arrived at the home of Police Judge U. G. Webb, at his home in Hellier, at a late hour on Independence Day, July 4th. Judge has three children and they are all boys, and both Judge and Mrs. Webb are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl. Mother and baby are doing nicely. Here's congratulations, Judge.

HELLIER'S NEW DOCTOR.

Dr. Preston, of Beaver creek, is assisting our local physician, Dr. A. V. Ginson. It was very necessary for Dr. Ginson to engage the service of an assistant on account of the wide territory that he has to cover.

HELLIER WINS BASEBALL GAME.

It looks like Edgewater is getting hellier than ever, instead of Hellier. The score follows:

Hellier	8	H E
Edgewater	1	O O

Both Hellier and Edgewater teams have been doing some tall baseball playing this season. It seems that Edgewater wins three or four times in succession, and the same is to be spoken of Hellier. It is, however, to be hoped that Hellier will continue their good playing.

THE KNOCKING BIRD.

Very recently a man knocked on the door of the NEWS reporter's office although he was not in. If you can't speak a good word for the BIG SANDY NEWS please don't knock. Nuf Cud.

MORGAN RECOMMENDED AS MAYOR FOR PIKEVILLE.

J. L. Morgan, superintendent of the Allegheny Coke company, was recommended as Mayor for Pikeville in a mass meeting held at the court house in Pikeville last Tuesday evening in the interest of the Republican party. Mr. Morgan would make an efficient mayor for Pikeville which is a most important office.

KENNIS WILLIAMS RETURNS.

Kennis Williams, a well known gentleman of Big Branch, has returned from an extended trip to Huntington and Dings, W. Va. Mr. Williams reported a big Fourth of July trip.

DOUBLE WEDDING IN BIG BRANCH.

Alva Castle and Roma Mullins, Elbert Dutton and Delphia Bartley, were quietly married at the home of Ed. Ramey, in Big Branch, by Jack Belcher, last week. Both grooms are industrious men and earnest workers and well deserve the two pretty brides.

THE DOGGONEST STORY YOU EVER READ.

SOMEWHERE IN A DOGGONE TOWN—Name not permitted by the board of doggone censors—Harry Cohen, the doggone Big Sandy News reporter in his doggone home town, started with a letter, after dark, to the post office, addressed to his doggone sweet girl, and when he stepped right on top of Tom Fife's doggone vicious Bull Dog Harry, he didn't step any further—he just leaped at the rate of a mile a minute—simply going like a doggone German submarine with the doggone bull dog right after him, and when the doggone reporter stopped running, the doggone dog had a hold of the Big Sandy News, reading the doggone Hellier news. Doggone Tom Fife's doggone dog, he knows what a doggone good newspaper is when he sees it.

P. S.—The doggone dog bit a big piece out of Harry's trousers, and Harry hurried to the doggone tailor, and when the tailor said I charge you $1 for mending your doggone trousers, Harry fairly gasped, exclaimed: D-o-g-g-o-n-o!

Hellier, Ky., July 9.—(Special)—The most vivid and the most startling murder suspect that ever confronted the public is baffling the Elkhorn City police. A man came running out of the house calling upon the police, exclaiming that he had sat down on a bed in a pool of hot blood. The guilt of the murder, apparently seems to rest upon an Italian who had a small store adjoining the house in that city. He and a dozen others were arrested and taken into custody by the police and removed to the Pikeville jail.

As each day passes the murder mystery grows deeper, more mysterious and cannot be solved. The Big Sandy river is being dragged and dynamited in hopes of discovering a body. It is generally believed that the victim was thrown into the river. Great excitement prevailed in Elkhorn City when a thousand or more people arrived in connection with the probe of the murder suspect.

It is reported that $1500 was found on a woman in the house where the blood-soaked garments were found, and this is adding to the suspicion that a horrible murder was committed. It is thought the victim is a traveling man, as no one was seen at the house at a late hour and he has not been accounted for yet.

The mystery that is shrouding the multitudes is, "Who is murdered, and where is the body, and is there any traveling man missing."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stafford, Hensley W. Va., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stafford at their home in Edgewater. Leo formerly resided here and is well known.

G. C. Ratliff, the Hellier postmaster, went to Pikeville last week over the slow poke division of the C. & O. There is no use to be in a hurry, is there, G. C.?

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cockill and Warren Cockill, of Henry Clay, have moved to Pennsylvania.

Chas. A. Scott and Loring Wortman, Edgewater, were calling on their friend, Louis Pigg, out in the suburb last week.

The 4th day of July passed over Hellier peacefully. No one was put in jail. Remarkable record? Yes, sir, it is!

Something to worry about. The present railway schedule.

Boost Hellier first, then boast if you want too, but don't forget to "boost" first.

The conductor yelled "Lookout" and before the passengers realized it, they were in Hellier, and it was too late then.

Sad news comes from Edgewater. A young lady of that community had the misfortune of herniating in her dress on the border in an accident on a sewing machine.

P. S.—Don't forget to subscribe for the BIG SANDY NEWS. Charles Childers was in Pikeville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stafford have returned to their home in West Va.

M. T. Ratliff has accepted a position in the Hellier postoffice as assistant postmaster.

Protest against the new railway schedule. Civilized people should demand civilized service.

This blackberry time. Many folks are taking to the mountain sides picking these luscious berries.

Funny Patty Aruckle was seen at the Princess theater last Monday night in his first release through the Phramount Film corporation.

Miss Grace Moore, of Hotel Virginia, is visiting friends in Pikeville.

If you like the Hellier news in the Big Sandy News tell your friend, if not, tell Harry, because Harry will go the limit to please the good people of Hellier.

The Hellier postoffice is to have some new equipment installed. Here's thanks to G. C. Ratliff, our congenial postmaster.

FLOYD COUNTY'S RECORD FOR WEEK.

On Tuesday evening, July 3, a mass meeting was held in the Airdome at Prestonsburg for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization of the Floyd County Kentucky Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. F. A. Hopkins, Temporary Chairman and Mr. W. P. McVay, Temporary Secretary.

Mr. Hopkins in his opening address stated the purpose of the meeting and read the authority from Frank C. Greene, Kentucky State Director of the American Red Cross, to form a chapter. Stirring addresses were made by Mr. W. S. Hartline, Professor A. C. Black, Rev. Mr. Reid and Rev. Mr. Hart in support of the movement. One of the features of the evening was the splendid rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Miss Edith Fitzpatrick. It is this she was assisted by the Ashland Concert Band, which through the evening played at the meeting.

The Airdome was crowded to its capacity and extra seats were brought from the Methodist church to seat the unexpected crowd.

The following trustees were elected: Dr. R. H. Leete, F. A. Hopkins, W. B. Burke, Mrs. W. B. Burke, Mrs. T. P. Johns, Mrs. Will Callahan, Elizabeth Leete, Mrs. Ballard James, Anna Harris, Ruth Davidson, W. S. Hartline, C. W. Evans, P. D. Davis, Mrs. W. P. McVay, Mrs. H. D. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Zula D. Spradlin, Ella Noel White, Anna Fitzpatrick, Edith Fitzpatrick, W. P. McVay, Judge Patrick, Joe Stanley, Mrs. J. D. Harkins, Mrs. F. A. Hopkins, Ruth Archer.

Honorary Trustees: Rev. Mr. Reid, Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, Rev. Mr. Hart, Rev. Mr. Pope.

The following Executive Committee was named: W. B. Burke, W. P. McVay, Mrs. J. D. Harkins, Mrs. Ballard James, Ruth Davidson, Judge Patrick, F. A. Hopkins, Mrs. W. P. McVay, Edith Leete, Ella Noel White, P. D. Davis, Mrs. W. B. Burke, Anna Harris, Mrs. Will Callahan.

From which the following officers were elected:

Chairman—Mr. F. A. Hopkins.

Vice Chairman—Mr. W. B. Burke.

Treasurer—Mr. Joe Stanley.

Secretary—Mr. W. P. McVay.

Atst. Sec'y—Mrs. W. B. Burke.

A large number of the young ladies were dressed as Red Cross Nurses and occupied the stage of the Airdome and added interest to the occasion and at the close of the meeting a special film was run by the Airdome management which was much appreciated.

A great interest in this work has been aroused in Prestonsburg and the members of the society expect to enter actively into the work of making the much needed supplies as outlined by the National Society.

On the Fourth the Red Cross took entire charge of the entertainment, except the furnishing of the band, and a nine o'clock in the morning a parade was formed at the Baptist church, this was headed by the Ashland Concert Band followed by the Red Cross young ladies dressed as nurses, and the children of the various Sunday schools. A large Red Cross flag was carried in the parade and into this was thrown quite a sum of money as the flag passed along the streets. The parade, after passing along the streets proceeded to the Baptist college where appropriate exercises were held attendant upon the raising of the beautiful flag, lately acquired by the college. Appropriate addresses were made by Mr. W. S. Harkins and Judge Patrick after which the flag was flung to the breeze.

Throughout the day the Red Cross sold sandwiches and "tagged" all who appeared, and thereby noted quite a sum for the day.

At one o'clock the First Aid Team from the Northern Coal company gave an exhibition of Mine Rescue work at the Airdome which was appreciated by a large audience. This is the team which won the second prize at the last meeting and contest at Lexington and numerous remarks were heard commending their work and the spirit which moved them to offer their services to aid the cause of the Red Cross.

In all they laid the Red Cross under obligations which will be hard to repay. To bring a team of six men, on a holiday, to Prestonsburg shows their spirit of helpfulness and willingness to go in line with the general purpose of the First Aid Work.

Throughout the day the different numbers of the program were enjoyed by a large crowd, both of town people and people from the different towns nearby.

TO THE VOTERS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY.—To citizens Lawrence county.

HAVE YOU WEAK LUNGS? Could cold settle on your chest or in your bronchial tubes? Do coughs hang on, or are you subject to throat troubles?

Such troubles should have immediate treatment with the strengthening powers of Scott's Emulsion to guard against consumption which so easily follows.

Scott's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil which peculiarly strengthens the respiratory tract and improves the quality of the blood; the glycerine in it soothes and breaks the tender membranes of the throat.

Scott's is prescribed by the best specialists. You can get it at any drug store. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Wedding Cakes. One pound of butter, one pound of black sugar, one and one-fourth pounds of flour, twelve eggs, six pounds of raisins, five pounds of cranberries, and one-half pound of citron, two teacupfuls of black molasses, two teacupfuls of wine, one cupful of brandy, two grated nutmegs, two tablespoonfuls of cloves, two tablespoonfuls of allspice, one tablespoonful of cinnamon. Before cutting the citron roll it, then use the water the citron was rolled in to put in the cake. The one-quarter of a pound of flour is used to roll the fruit in. At the last add one gill of milk and two tablespoonfuls of baking powder.

Plaster For Cracks. Use vinegar instead of water to mix your plaster of Paris. The resultant mass will be like putty and will not "set" for twenty or thirty minutes, whereas if you use water the plaster will become hard almost immediately, before you have time to use it. Push into the cracks and smooth it off nicely with a table knife.

Paraffined Paint Cans. After housecleaning, if one has partly used cans of paint or varnish left over, which would soon dry up and become useless, try putting them into small cans and cover with melted paraffin. They will keep indefinitely and can be used as needed.

ty thoroughly in a job that only an able-bodied man can do in a reasonable length of time. My opponents for the nomination for County Court Clerk in the August primary have a decided advantage of me in this respect, because they are all able-bodied men. I am crippled and therefore not able to go and see the voters. This fact forces me to use this and other means of calling attention to my race and asking for your support. I hope you will not forget me when you go into the booth on August 4th. My name will be second on the Democratic ballot under the heading of County Clerk. I assure you that your help is needed and will be appreciated. CHAS. B. PETERS, 41.

THESE DAYS.

(By W. J. Lampton)

(From Pearson's Magazine, 1907.)

Trav. What is to-day? That it should be worse than the early days? In the modern ways? Earlier fall the light? That the years have shed? Is the light? So dead?

Under the wheels of progress. By the side of the road to success. Bleeding and bruised and broken. Left in forgetfulness.

Is truth? Stronger in youth? That in my? Does it grow? Gentle with years? And now show on the path that leads? To the world's needs? Does man reach up or down? To take the victor's crown? Of progress in action, art and commerce?

In all the works that plan? And purpose to accomplish? The betterment of man?

Does the soul stir? With the broadening of thought? Does the heart harden? By what the hand has wrought? Who shall say? That decay? Marks the good of today? Who shall state? That God grows less? As man grows great?
